Rules for the Boarders.

The pupils should remember that, in an institution of this kind, it would be impossible to preserve order without well established Rules; and when these Rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but, also, to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure amongst them, will be derived from their assiduity in this respect

1st. The first and most important Rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation, in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket-money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the Treasurer; also, all jewelry, except a breast pin, pair of ear-rings, and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once a week.

7th. The pupils are not allowed to make visits oftener than once a month.

8th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially towards strange pupils.

9th. During the recreation hours, no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

10th. No books brought to the Academy by the pupils, can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

11th. No visits allowed, except at the appointed times, viz.: Wednesday afternoon and Sunday; pupils who wish to give no trouble, should be particular and notify their friends of this arrangement.

12th. Personal neatness, and a particular care of books toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect, must expect to lose all good marks, as well as the respect of her companions and teachers.

13th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

14th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room, during school or recreation hours, without special permission.

THE DAILY ROUTINE FOR BOARDERS IS AS FOLLOWS:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 5½ | o'clock. | Rise. |
| 6¼ | " | Morning Prayers and Mass. |
| 7 | " | Breakfast, followed by Recreation. |
| 8 | " | Study. |
| 9 | " | Recitation. |
| 11¾ | " | Dinner and Recreation. |
| 12½ | " | Study and Recitation. |
| 4 | " | Luncheon and Recreation. |
| 5 | " | Study. |
| 6 | " | Supper. Rosary (for the Catholics). |
| 6½ | " | Recreation. |
| 8¼ | " | Night Prayers, after which all retire to their respective dormitories for the night. |

PROSPECTUS

—OF—

Saint Xavier's Academy.

Conducted by the Sisters of Mercy.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash Avenue and 29th Street, about three miles from the centre of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious, and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27th, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions, of five months each. The first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention, consistent with the spirit of a mild, but firm government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Rt. Rev. Bishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, Wax-Flowers, etc.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home once a week.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness and etiquette, and all that constitutes ladylike deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at 8 o'clock.

Recitation commences at 9 o'clock precisely, and continues until 3 o'clock P. M., with an intermission of three-quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should, also, see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

For those who may prefer it, there is a professor of Music (Prof. M. J. Deloulme,) in attendance throughout the year; and for pupils who wish to take lessons in Elocution, Prof. J. K. McAfferty attends.

Rules for the Boarders.

The pupils should remember that, in an institution of this kind, it would be impossible to preserve order without well established Rules; and when these Rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure amongst them, will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important Rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation, in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the Treasurer; also, all jewelry, except a breast pin, pair of ear-rings, and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once a week.

7th. The pupils are not allowed to make visits oftener than once a month.

8th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially towards new pupils.

9th. During the recreation hours, no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

10th. No books brought to the Academy by the pupils, can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

11th. No visits allowed, except at the appointed times, viz: Wednesday afternoons and Sunday; pupils who wish to give no trouble, should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement,

12th. Personal neatness, and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect, must expect to lose all good marks, as well as the respect of her companions and teachers.

13th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

14th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room, during school or recreation hours, without special permission

THE DAILY ROUTINE FOR BOARDERS IS AS FOLLOWS:

| 12½ | " | Study and Recitation. |
| 4 | " | Luncheon and Recreation. |
| 5 | " | Study. |
| 6 | " | Supper. Rosary (for the Catholics). |
| 6½ | " | Recreation. |
| 8¼ | " | Night Prayers, after which all retire to their respective dormitories for the night. |

CATALOGUE OF PUPILS

OF

Saint Xavier's Academy,

CHICAGO.

FOR THE ACADEMIC YEAR, 1878-9.

PROSPECTUS

—((OF))—

Saint Xavier's Academy.

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash Avenue and Twenty-Ninth Street, about three miles from the centre of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious, and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27th, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions, of five months each —the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month— generally the first Sunday of the month.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention, consistent with the spirit of a mild, but firm government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Rt. Rev. Bishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, Wax Flowers, etc.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness and etiquette, and all that constitutes ladylike deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at eight o'clock.

Recitation commences at nine o'clock precisely, and continues until three o'clock P. M., with an intermission of three quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should, also, see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

Rules for the Boarders.

The pupils should remember that, in an institution of this kind, it would be impossible to preserve order without well established Rules; and when these Rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure amongst them, will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important Rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation, in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall or any room in which all are asembled, without permission from the presiding Sister

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the Treasurer; also, all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings, and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. The pupils are not allowed to make visits oftener than once a month.

8th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially towards new pupils.

9th. During the recreation hours, no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

10th. No books brought to the Academy by the pupils, can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

11th. No visits allowed, except at the appointed times, viz: Wednesday afternoons and Sunday; pupils who wish to give no trouble, should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

12th. Personal neatness, and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect, must expect to lose all good marks, as well as the respect of her companions and teachers.

13th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

14th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room, during school or recreation hours, without special permission.

THE DAILY ROUTINE FOR BOARDERS IS AS FOLLOWS:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 5½ | o'clock, | Rise. |
| 6¼ | " | Morning Prayers and Mass. |
| 7 | " | Breakfast, followed by Recreation. |
| 8 | " | Study. |
| 9 | " | Recitation in respective class rooms. |
| 11¾ | " | Dinner and Recreation. |
| 12½ | " | Study. |
| 1 | " | Recitation. |
| 4 | " | Luncheon and Recreation. |
| 4½ | " | Study. |
| 6 | " | Supper. Rosary (for the Catholics). |
| 6½ | " | Recreation. |
| 8¼ | " | Night Prayers, after which all retire to their respective dormitories for the night. |

IN MEMORIAM

Rt. Rev. T. Foley, D. D.

February 19th, 1879.

---

Five months have scarce elapsed since that sad day
When Heaven's fiat came without display;
On Cherub's wings, as fleet as wind 'twas borne,
It left our hearts immersed in grief to mourn.

"Well done!" thou good and faithful son, "well done!"
Thy journey now is o'er—thy crown is won;
Come gentle soul! "the Master calls for thee;"
He longs thy beauteous spirit now to see,
To clasp thee close in long and warm embrace,
To hide thee in the secret of His face.

The missive sent—the fiat whispered low
By kindred spirit—heart to heart aglow;
Then humbly, sweetly, bent that gracious head
On which the mitre's holy light was shed,
And calmly, grandly as the sunset rays,
Breathed forth his spirit with his Maker's praise.

"I've tried my duty here to do," and now
"To thy sweet will, my Lord, my God, I bow;"
My fondest hopes I know thou'lt not betray,
I've sung thy praises seven times a day;
"My heart to thee I gave in early youth,
And thine it's ever been in very truth;
Content am I if thou dost bid me stay,
Quite satisfied if hence I'm called away."

A moment more and orphans we were left,
Of father's care—of father's love bereft;
How scarcely could we realize our loss,
Which day by day but proved a heavier cross;
We can but cry with Holy Job to-day,
"The Lord hath giv'n—the Lord hath ta'en away;
As it hath pleased the Lord, so let it be,"
Thy face, O God, he fondly wished to see.

Our loss we know, was his eternal gain,
Yet, would he spare us e'en the slightest pain;
How oft he came into our midst to cheer,
To raise the drooping head and banish fear;
The little lambs upon his knee he'd place,
Caressing fondly each upturned face.

But now he 's gone, he rests in Bonnie Brae,
And for his happiness each day we pray.
His voice no more our inmost hearts will cheer—
Our father 's gone—and we are filled with fear;
Still trust we in his pow'r, now greater still,
To help us bow resigned to God's sweet will.

CATALOGUE OF PUPILS

OF

Saint Xavier's Academy,

CHICAGO.

FOR THE ACADEMIC YEAR, 1879-80.

ANDER CHANDLER

OF

Saint Xavier's Academy.

Conducted by the Sisters of Mercy.

This Institution first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash Avenue and Twenty-Ninth Street, about three miles from the centre of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious, and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27th, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions, of five months each —the first session commencing on the first of September ; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month— generally the first Sunday of the month.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends ; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice), just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence except in cases of protracted sickness.

As the practice of leaving just before the close of the year is a serious damage to the interests of the Institution any pupil does so at the risk of her good standing.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention, consistent with the spirit of a mild, but firm government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils ; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Rt. Rev. Bishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, Wax Flowers, etc.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness and etiquette, and all that constitutes ladylike deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at eight o'clock.

Recitation commences at nine o'clock precisely, and continues until three o'clock P. M., with an intermission of three quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should, also, see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours except in extraordinary cases.

Rules for the Boarders.

The pupils should remember that, in an institution of this kind, it would be impossible to preserve order without well established Rules; and when these Rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure amongst them, will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important Rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation, in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the Treasurer; also, all jewelry, except a breast pin, pair of ear-rings, and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. The pupils are not allowed to make visits oftener than once a month.

8th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially towards new pupils.

9th. During the recreation hours, no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

10th. No books brought to the Academy by the pupils, can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

11th. No visits allowed, except at the appointed times, viz: Wednesday afternoons and Sunday; pupils who wish to give no trouble, should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

12th. Personal neatness, and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc, must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect, must expect to lose all good marks, as well as the respect of her companions and teachers.

13th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

14th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room, during school or recreation hours, without special permission.

THE DAILY ROUTINE FOR BOARDERS IS AS FOLLOWS:

5½ o'clock, Rise.
6¼ " Morning Prayers and Mass.
7 " Breakfast, followed by Recreation.
8 " Study.
9 " Recitation in respective class rooms.
11¾ " Dinner and Recreation.
12½ " Study.
1 " Recitation.
4 " Luncheon and Recreation.
4½ " Study.
6 " Supper. Rosary (for the Catholics).
6½ " Recreation.
8¼ " Night Prayers, after which all retire to their respective dormitories for the night.

Studies will be resumed the First Monday in September, and no young lady who is not then in attendance will be allowed to compete for the Deportment Medal

IN MEMORIAM

Right Rev. Bishop Foley, D.D.

Written for February 27, 1879.

---

Heaven's portals widely open,
Angels, that day's mission done,
Crowded round the throne of Jesus,
Telling all the victories won.
Holy deeds were there recorded,
Some had sad, sad tales to tell;
Others whispered deeds of kindness,
Tales which Jesus loves so well.

Now a shining seraph hastened,
Angel of a school was he,
Tells he now how in a convent
Children's hearts were bounding free.
Bounding in anticipation,
Of a fast approaching day,
Feast of one whose earthly presence,
Brightened up their young life's way.

How for weeks, they had been planning,
Planning to delight that heart,
Sparing naught that would give pleasure,
Conjuring every childish art.
Listening kindly, smiling sweetly,
Unto them our dear Lord said,
"Little know they that their shepherd
Spends his feast with us instead."

Cherubs hear in joyous wonder,
Words that to their happy band!
Add another star resplendent,
While before the throne they stand.
Seraphs linger while admiring
Wisdom's ways so undefined,
Dropping now a tear of sorrow,
For the dear ones left behind.

Yet, alas! those children knew not
Of the word gone forth that day,
While they planned and planned in earnest,
Choosing recitations gay.
Strange to say one piece selected
For the day, they longed to see,
Was the dirge like, sad "Inquiry,"
Where can happiness be?

Crushed our hearts, our spirits gloomy,
At the dawn of that sad day,
When we learned that death's cold angel
Bore our Father's soul away.
Little know we of life's crosses,
Thus far light has been its care,
Truly this has been the greatest
Some of us have had to bear.

Father, in thy Home eternal,
Pray for thy poor children here;
Know that sinful chains may bind us,
Ever are they clanking near.
Beg that we as earth fades from us,
Or its claims we fling aside,
May say with thee, in truthful language,
"To do my duty I have tried."

Till the ceaseless waves of life
Mingle with the silvery spray
Of Eternity's great ocean,
With us will thy memory stay.
Then once more we'll gather round thee,
As in the happy days of yore;
When our barks are safely anchored,
And we rest on Heaven's shore.

CHICAGO.

FOR THE ACADEMIC YEAR 1880-1881.

St. Xavier's Academy

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

This Institution first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash Avenue and Twenty-Ninth Street, about three miles from the center of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27th, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions, of five months each—the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice), just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of the term, nor for absence except in cases of protracted sickness.

As the practice of leaving just before the close of the year is a serious damage to the interests of the Institution any pupil does so at the risk of her good standing.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention, consistent with the spirit of a mild, but firm government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the annual distribution of premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Most Rev. Archbishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for plain and ornamental needle-work, wax flowers, etc.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness and etiquette, and all that constitutes ladylike deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for boarders and day scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at eight o'clock.

Recitation commences at nine o'clock precisely, and continues until three o'clock P. M., with an intermission of three-quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should, also, see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours except in extraordinary cases.

References are required before admitting pupils into the Academy.

Rules for the Boarders.

The pupils should remember that, in an institution of this kind, it would be impossible to preserve order without well established Rules; and when these Rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teacher, whose greatest pleasure amongst them, will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important Rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation, in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the Treasurer; also, all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings, and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. The pupils are not allowed to make visits oftener than once a month.

8th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially towards new pupils.

9th. During the recreation hours, no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

10th. No books brought to the Academy by the pupils, can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

11th. No visits allowed, except at the appointed time, viz: Wednesday afternoons and Sunday; pupils who wish to give no trouble, should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

12th. Personal neatness, and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect, must expect to lose all good marks, as well as the respect of her companions and teachers.

13th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

14th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room, during school or recreation hours, without special permission.

The Daily Routine for Boarders is as Follows:

THE ACADEMIC YEAR 1881-1882.

PROSPECTUS

OF

St. Xavier's Academy

Conducted by the Sisters of Mercy.

This Institution first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash Avenue and Twenty-Ninth Street, about three miles from the centre of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27th, 1847, St. Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions, of five months each—the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice) just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of the term, nor for absence except in cases of protracted sickness.

As the practice of leaving just before the close of the year is a serious damage to the interests of the Institution, any pupil does so at the risk of her good standing.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention consistent with the spirit of a mild, but firm government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the annual distribution of premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment are crowned by the Most Rev. Archbishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for plain and ornamental needle-work, wax flowers, etc.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness and etiquette and all that constitutes ladylike deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for boarders and day scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at eight o'clock.

Recitation commences at nine o'clock precisely, and continues until three o'clock P. M., with an intermission of three-quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that that they attend evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours except in extraordinary cases.

References are required before admitting pupils into the Academy.

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that, in an institution of this kind, it would be impossible to preserve order without well established Rules; and when these Rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teacher, whose greatest pleasure amongst them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important Rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation, in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the Treasurer; also, all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings, and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. The pupils are not allowed to make visits oftener than once a month.

8th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially towards new pupils.

9th. During the recreation hours, no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study

10th. No books brought to the Academy by the pupils, can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

11th. No visits allowed, except at the appointed time, viz: Wednesday afternoons and Sunday; pupils who wish to give no trouble, should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

12th. Personal neatness, and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect, must expect to lose all good marks, as well as the respect of her companions and teachers.

13th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

14th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room, during school or recreation hours, without special permission.

SAINT XAVIER'S ACADEMY.

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash Avenue and Twenty-Ninth Street, about three miles from the centre of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious, and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27th, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions, of five months each—the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month, unless deprived of this privilege for non-observance of rule.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice), just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence except in cases of protracted sickness.

As the practice of leaving just before the close of the year is a serious damage to the interests of the Institution, any pupil does so at the risk of her good standing.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention, consistent with the spirit of a mild, but firm government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Rt. Rev. Bishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, Wax Flowers, etc.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness and etiquette, and all that constitutes ladylike deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at eight o'clock.

Recitation commences at nine o'clock precisely, and continues until three o'clock P. M., with an intermission of three quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours except in extraordinary cases.

VALEDICTORY

BY

Miss Joe Burke.

Five golden clasps have linked the chain of years
Which, in this calm retreat I've spent; and bright
The days, though now and then o'ercast with fears.
The way was long, yet seemed my burden light
As up I toiled to reach Minerva's height.
Fair world within a world! yet all my own!
And here I lived content as earth, at night,
Slumbers beneath the dews. But it has flown,
Aye! vanished, swift as stars at morn from night's blue throne.

How oft in years to come, will Memory waft
Me back to scenes beloved! How oft I'll tread
The path to Wisdom's flowery vale! How oft—
Alas! I'll raise the pall that years have spread,
To view once more the days that now have fled!
Ah! then a rhyme, or snatches from a lay,
Or e'en a face, may wake to life the dead!
Nay! lure them back, as evening's parting ray
Is by a cloud enticed to tread the azure way.

Sweet Memory! when thy mystic wand thou'lt wave,
And from its course the flood of Time wilt turn,
Thy fairest flowers shall deck our childhood's grave.
Yet vain 'twill be, whilst bending o'er that urn,
To sigh: "Return! oh happy days, return!
Bring back, O Time! those dewy laden hours!"
Time's rippling echoes from that magic urn
Will softly chant with strange ethereal powers,
The sad reply in accents low,—"Not ours! Not ours!"

Oh! where's the wind without its mournful cry?
Or where the tree without one leaf grown sear?
Where is the wave without its dirge-like sigh?
Where are the eyes which ne'er have shed a tear?
Ask of the forest winds or billows clear,
Ask of the plains or of the desert's sand.
One by one they faintly sigh,—"Not here! not here!"
For Sorrow's low bent form and withering hand
Are stretched from shore to shore, from weeping land to land.

But look! what star illumes the darksome night?
What form dispels the mists that lowering frowned?
Ah! know ye not whence comes that wonderous light?
'Tis Hope's fair brow by Love's bright fingers crowned!
See! how her radiant beauty sheds around
Refulgent beams as tho' of Heaven a part.
How soft she treads, and wafts without a sound
A soothing balm to each faint bleeding heart!
At her approach, grim Sorrow flies and cares depart.

To each of us a task has been assigned,
And Faith's bright star alone must point the way;—
To bear the cross with hearts which are resigned
Should be our aim. For those whose footsteps stray
From duty's path, in charity to pray,
O'er darkened lives to bend a ray divine
Tho' back 'twill come again, One gift each day
To raise aloft with love and say, "'tis mine!
I did it, dearest Lord, yet all I have is Thine!"

Oh! when our task is done and Heaven shall hold
Its portals open wide, how radiant
Will shine Life's cross! As diamonds set in gold
'Twill gleam and sparkle in the light! Content
We'll be, that thro' a thorny, steep ascent,
At last we've reached the goal! What visions blest
Before us there shall flit! What cherubs sent
To welcome us! How oft we'll hear expressed
By seraph-lips in accents sweet,—"At rest! At rest!"

No thorns by Sorrow scattered o'er the road!
No sad farewells to waft our bliss away!
No crosses there to crush us 'neath their load!
Nor gloomy nights devoid of Hope's clear ray,
But brighter, yes, far brighter than the day,
More glorious even than the brilliant sun,
Shall be our waking after Life's sad play,—
O happy thought! if well our task be done,
We'll always live in union with the Holy One.

When there, our kind Archbishop we shall meet,
We'll join to form the beauteous crown he'll wear;
'Twill surely make elysian joys more sweet
To find our youth's true friends assembled there.
Our pastors kind, who've sown good seed with care,
The fruits of long and patient toil shall reap.
The lessons taught,—the heart-felt, earnest prayer
Finds each an angel's wing. In silence deep
They're borne on high to wait the last long mortal sleep.

Dear friends, the lengthening shadows speed the hours
Of parting day, and I, alas! must haste
The dreaded word to speak ere darkness lowers.
My childhood's home, adieu! Thy lessons traced
With tender care, shall never be effaced.
Tho' other forms will soon around me dwell,
Thy image fair can never be replaced.
But I must rend at last the magic spell,
My teachers loved, companions dear, farewell! farewell!

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that, in an institution of this kind, it would be impossible to preserve order without well established Rules; and when these Rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure amongst them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important Rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation, in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the Treasurer; also, all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings, and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. The pupils are not allowed to make visits oftner than once a month.

8th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially towards new pupils.

9th. During the recreation hours, no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

10th. No books brought to the Academy by the pupils, can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

11th. No visits allowed, except at the appointed times, viz: Wednesday afternoons and Sunday; pupils who wish to give no trouble, should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

12th. Personal neatness, and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect, must expect to lose all good marks, as well as the respect of her companions and teachers.

13th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

14th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room, during school or recreation hours, without special permission.

THE DAILY ROUTINE FOR BOARDERS IS AS FOLLOWS:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 5½ | o'clock, | Rise. |
| 6¼ | " | Morning Prayers and Mass. |
| 7 | " | Breakfast, followed by Recreation. |
| 8 | " | Study. |
| 9 | " | Recitation in respective class rooms. |
| 11¾ | " | Dinner and Recreation. |
| 12½ | " | Study. |
| 1 | " | Recitation |
| 4 | " | Luncheon and Recreation. |
| 4½ | " | Study. |
| 6 | " | Supper. Rosary (for the Catholics). |
| 6½ | " | Recreation. |
| 8 | " | Night Prayers, after which, all retire to their respective dormitories for the night. |

Studies will be resumed the First Monday in September, and no young lady who is not then in attendance will be allowed to compete for the Deportment Medal.

PROSPECTUS

OF

SAINT XAVIER'S ACADEMY.

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street, about three miles from the center of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions of five months each, the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month — generally the first Sunday of the month, unless deprived of this privilege for non-observance of rule.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice) just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence except in cases of protracted sickness.

As the practice of leaving just before the close of the year is a serious damage to the interests of the Institution, any pupil does so at the risk of her good standing.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention consistent with the spirit of a mild but firm government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Most Reverend Archbishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle-work.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness, and all that constitutes lady-like deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at eight o'clock.

Recitation commences at nine o'clock precisely, and continues until three o'clock p.m., with an intermission of three quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours, except in extraordinary cases.

COURSE OF STUDY.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

FIRST YEAR OR GRADE.

READING: Word and sentence method from chart and panorama; also first reader.

VALEDICTORY.

The Starlight of the Past and the Twilight of the Future.

BY MISS EVELYN E. EXCELL.

The same bright gems which now illume the night,
Long ages past have shed their silvery light
Upon a world of deep and bitter woes,
And given a sacred sweetness to repose.
The starry eyes which peep from out the sky,
The smile have often brought, and checked the sigh:
For in their light, our varied fancies see
The golden fruits which hang on memory's tree.
With sweet soul-stirring song one charms our ear,
In tender tones so sad, yet sweet and clear,
As like an echo, whispering soft and low
The dear, time-honored strains of long ago;
Another brings to fancy's favored sight
Some dear one's spirit, clothed in radiance bright,
That years ago left here a vacant place,
To grace the starry vault with angel face.
The darkened skies one constellation boast,
Which well may rank amid the starry host;
It claims its own, the great and wise of old,
Philosophers who would their minds unfold
And give to hungry brains a wealth untold—
A prize that was not bought, could not be sold:
The poet who with great and gifted pen
Sang loud the praise of the historian,
Who pictured with deep shade and light intense
The heroes brave, enlivening past events
In one we note how in some hour of peace
We gaily bade all anxious murmuring cease,
And stood with God apart from care and fear,
Content to lean on Him who seemed so near.
Oh! this, methinks, of all our beauteous past
Most laden was with joy, too sweet to last.
But lo! our blissful reverie must cease,
The morning twilight cometh on apace;
The golden stars retreating one by one,
Like courtiers grand, before the great king Sun.
The dreamy night like pleasure soon is past,
Another day upon us dawns at last.
'Twill bring to us, we see not—know not—what:
Will it with joy, or sadness deep, be fraught?
Or will the All-wise say, "It may not be
That thou the close of day may live to see!"
But, as we watch the dawn of coming day,
Which gilds the hilltops, like sweet flowers of May,
We sigh, "Ah me! what change is yet to come?

What cloud obscures the world we now call home?"
And thus it is, dear friends, we stand to-day,
And gaze upon the past that would not stay.
The star of school-life waning quickly now,
The future's twilight shadowing our brow,
We linger ere we sever childhood's bonds
Since heart to heart each faithful friend responds.
Yet some have said (indeed, perhaps 'tis true),
That school-girls now and then this part o'erdo,
And do not really mean quite all they say
When leaving friends on school-life's last fair day.
And hence, dear friends, I will not now express
Our hearts' past joys or present deep distress;
I will not now by cold, unfeeling line
Wrench tender blossoms from a stout old vine;
But on the "Son of Song" so sweet, I'll call—
His soothing words our youthful hearts enthrall,
Expressing partly what we wish to say
Before we go to tread the world's hard way:

"When the freshness of youth and of beauty
Are mingled with things of the past,
How sweet to have treasured in memory
Relics more fated to last!
The remembrance of those whom we trusted
And loved in the days of our youth,
The dear hearts which then beat responsive
While pulse with pulse mingled in truth."

My dearest friends, O Sisters, kind and true!
At last! at last! Fate bids us part from you!
You have been earnest, faithful to the last—
The future's twilight ne'er o'er-clouds the past.
The seeds you've planted in these hearts of ours
Will ever thrive midst sacred memory's flowers,
Until we meet in Heaven's eternal school
Where all will love and serve the same sweet rule.
You know the "plant of strange elastic power"
Whose root, true kindness is, and love the flower:
Think not the plantlet's leaves will soon be sere
That has for nine full years been growing here.
And when life's school-days too shall pass away
With Nature's poet still our hearts will say:

"Dear Native regions, I foretell
From what I feel at this farewell,
That wheresoe'er my steps shall tend
And whensoe'er my course shall end,
If in that hour a single tie
Remain of local sympathy,
My soul will take its backward view—
Its longing look alone—on you."

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that in an institution of this kind it would be impossible to preserve order without well-established rules; and when these rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure among them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping it is deposited in the hands of the treasurer; also all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially toward new pupils.

8th. During the recreation hours no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

9th. No books brought to the Academy by the pupils can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

10th. No visits allowed except at the appointed times, viz: Wednesday afternoon and Sunday. Pupils who wish to give no trouble should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

11th. Personal neatness and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc , must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect must expect to lose all good marks as well as the respect of her teachers and companions.

12th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

13th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room during school or recreation

SAINT XAVIER'S ACADEMY.

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street, about three miles from the center of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions of five months each, the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month, unless deprived of this privilege for non-observance of rule.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice), just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence, except in cases of protracted sickness.

As the practice of leaving just before the close of the year is a serious damage to the interests of the Institution, any pupil does so at the risk of her good standing.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention consistent with the spirit of a mild but firm government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Most Reverend Archbishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle-work.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness, and all that constitutes lady-like deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at eight o'clock.

Recitation commences at nine o'clock precisely, and continues until three o'clock p. m , with an intermission of three quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours, except in extraordinary cases.

COURSE OF STUDY.

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that in an institution of this kind it would be impossible to preserve order without well-established rules; and when these rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure among them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping it is deposited in the hands of the treasurer; also all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially toward new pupils.

8th. During the recreation hours no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

9th. No books brought to the academy by the pupils can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

10th. No visits allowed except at the appointed times, viz: Wednesday afternoon and Sunday. Pupils who wish to give no trouble should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

11th. Personal neatness and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect must expect to lose all good marks as well as the respect of her teachers and companions.

12th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

13th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room during school or recreation hours without special permission.

PROSPECTUS

SAINT XAVIER'S ACADEMY.

Conducted by the Sisters of Mercy.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street, about three miles from the center of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various sleeping apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions of five months each, the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month, unless deprived of this privilege for non-observance of rule.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice), just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence, except in cases of protracted sickness.

As the practice of leaving just before the close of the year is a serious damage to the interests of the Institution, any pupil does so at the risk of her good standing.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention consistent with the spirit of a mild but firm Government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Most Reverend Archbishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle-work.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness, and all that constitutes lady-like deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at eight o'clock.

Recitation commences at nine o'clock precisely, and continues until three o'clock p. m., with an intermission of three-quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours, except in extraordinary cases.

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that in an institution of this kind it would be impossible to preserve order without well-established rules; and when these rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure among them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping it is deposited in the hands of the treasurer; also all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially toward new pupils.

8th. During the recreation hours no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

9th. No books brought to the academy, by the pupils can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

10th. No visits allowed except at the appointed times, viz.: Wednesday afternoon and Sunday. Pupils who wish to give no trouble should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

11th. Personal neatness and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated A young lady who is careless in this respect must expect to loose all good marks as well as the respect of her teachers and companions.

12th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

13th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room during school or recreation hours without special permission.

PROSPECTUS.

SAINT XAVIER'S ACADEMY.

Conducted by the Sisters of Mercy.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street, about three miles from the center of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions of five months each, the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month — generally the first Sunday of the month, unless deprived of this privilege for non-observance of rule.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice), just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence, except in cases of protracted sickness.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention consistent with the spirit of a mild but firm government is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Most Reverend Archbishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle-work.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness, and all that constitutes lady-like deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at 8 o'clock.

Recitation commences at 9 o'clock precisely, and continues until 3:30 P. M., with an intermission of three-quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours, except in extraordinary cases.

COURSE OF STUDY.

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that in an institution of this kind it would be impossible to preserve order without well-established rules; and when these rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure among them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the treasurer; also all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially toward new pupils.

8th. During the recreation hours no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

9th. No books brought to the academy, by the pupils can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

10th. No visits allowed except at the appointed times, viz.: Wednesday afternoon and Sunday. Pupils who wish to give no trouble should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

11th. Personal neatness and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect must expect to lose all good marks as well as the respect of her teachers and companions.

12th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

13th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room during school or recreation hours without special permission.

PROSPECTUS

OF

ST. XAVIER'S ACADEMY.

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street, about three miles from the center of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions of five months each the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month, unless deprived of this privilege for non-observance of rule.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice), just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence, except in cases of protracted sickness.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention consistent with the spirit of a mild but firm government is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Most Reverend Archbishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle-work.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness, and all that constitutes lady-like deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at 8 o'clock.

Recitation commences at 9 o'clock precisely, and continues until 3:30 P. M., with an intermission of three-quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours, except in extraordinary cases.

COURSE OF STUDY.

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that in an institution of this kind it would be impossible to preserve order without well-established rules; and when these rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure among them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the treasurer; also all jewelry, except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable; on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially toward new pupils.

8th. During the recreation hours no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

9th. No books brought to the academy by the pupils can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

10th. No visits allowed except at the appointed times, viz.: Wednesday afternoon and Sunday. Pupils who wish to give no trouble should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

11th. Personal neatness and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect must expect to lose all good marks as well as the respect of her teachers and companions.

12th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

13th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room during school or recreation hours without special permission.

CATALOGUE OF PUPILS

OF

ST. XAVIER'S ACADEMY,

CHICAGO.

For the Academic Year 1888-89.

CHICAGO:
THE GEO. D. SIMONDS PRINTING CO., 125 CLARK STREET, 1889.

PROSPECTUS

OF

ST. XAVIER'S ACADEMY.

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street, about three miles from the center of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions of five months each the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month, unless deprived of this privilege for non-observance of rule.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, but can in no case leave (as is sometimes the practice), just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first two or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence, except in cases of protracted sickness.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention consistent with the spirit of a mild but firm government is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums, those who have given evidence of polite and amiable deportment, are crowned by the Most Reverend Archbishop.

The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition History and Penmanship. A certain portion of time is allowed each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needle-work.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course.

Pupils are received at all times during the year, their session always commencing with the date of their entrance.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness, and all that constitutes lady-like deportment.

There are two examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at 8 o'clock.

Recitation commences at 9 o'clock precisely, and continues until 3:30 P. M., with an intermission of three-quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours, except in extraordinary cases.

COURSE OF STUDY.

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that in an institution of this kind it would be impossible to preserve order without well-established rules; and when these rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure among them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st, The first and most important rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the treasurer; also all jewelry except a breat-pin, pair of ear-rings and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable, on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially toward new pupils.

8th. During the recreation hours no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for for future study.

9th. No books brought to the academy by the pupils can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

10th. No visits allowed except at the appointed times, viz: Wednesday afternoon and Sunday. Pupils who wish to give no trouble should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

11th. Personal neatness and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect must expect to lose all good marks as well as the respect of her teachers and companions.

12th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

13th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room during school or recreation hours without special permission.

PROSPECTUS

OF

ST. XAVIER'S ACADEMY.

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

This Institution, first opened in 1846, is now permanently located on the corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street, about three miles from the center of the city.

The building is of brick, with stone trimmings. It is spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. Hot and cold baths are connected with the various apartments, and the entire building is heated by steam.

Providence has marvelously blessed the Institution in regard to health, and those parents and guardians who have patronized the Academy during the past years, can give testimony of this.

The regular mode of life, together with the thorough ventilation which exists, has done much to improve the health of its pupils.

By its charter, obtained February 27, 1847, Saint Xavier's Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first institutions of the country.

The discipline is mild, yet conducted with such uniformity as to secure order and regularity.

The scholastic year is divided into two sessions of five months each the first session commencing on the first of September; the second on the first of February. A vacation of about one week is allowed at Christmas, when pupils are permitted to visit their parents if they desire it. If residents of the city, they are permitted to do so once a month—generally the first Sunday of the month, unless deprived of this privilege for non-observance of rule.

Wednesday and Sunday are visiting days for parents, relatives or friends; visits on other days must prove detrimental to pupils, since study is necessarily interrupted thereby.

The correspondence of the young ladies is, at all times, subject to the supervision of the Directress, hence private correspondence is not allowed.

Pupils may enter at any time during the year, their session always commencing with date of entrance; but can in no case leave just before the close of the year, without serious damage to their standing, besides forfeiting prizes.

No deduction is made for the first or last two weeks of a term, nor for absence, except in cases of protracted sickness.

Parents and guardians may rest assured that every attention consistent with the spirit of a mild but firm government is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Academy, whilst the greatest care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religon which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils;however, for the sake of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Institution.

Monthly examinations are held and reports of deportment, scholarship, etc., are forwarded to parents and guardians.

At the Annual Distribution of Premiums, those who have observed the Rules and given evidenc of polite and amiable deporment, are crowned by the Most Reverend Archbishop.

Graduating Medals are conferred on those only who take the full Academic Course, and Class Medals are awarded for the highest average.

Each pupil is required to write home every two weeks.

Weekly instructions are given in politeness, and all that constitutes lady-like deportment.

There are two general examinations each year, after which any pupil who may be found duly qualified is promoted.

The Institution is intended for Boarders and Day Scholars. For the latter the Academy is opened at 8 o'clock.

Recitation commences at 9 o,clock precisely, and continues until 3:30 P. M., with an intermission of three-quarters of an hour at noon.

As the progress of the young ladies, as well as their promotion, depends in a great measure on their regular attendance at school, they should never be encouraged in a desire to remain absent, except in case of illness. Parents should also see that they attend to evening study while at home, as it is useless to expect perfect recitation without private study.

No young lady is accessible to callers during study or recitation hours except in extraordinary cases.

Regrets were received from Mrs. K. Conley Wren, Mrs. A. Brady Fitzpatrick, Miss Martha Bennett, and Mrs. M. Norfolk Kenny, who were unavoidably absent.

Touching allusions were made by the retiring President, Miss L. C. Kehoe, to the loss sustained by the association in the death of one of its most esteemed members, Mrs. Josie Cleary Templeton, Superior, Neb., and to the consequent absence of Miss Annie Cleary, who has always taken an active part in entertaining her former teachers and schoolmates at the meetings of the Alumnæ.

TEACHER'S DIPLOMA,

In Addition to Graduating Honors Conferred on

Miss Marie Stearns.

This young lady not only gave perfect satisfaction in the Primary, Intermediate, Academic and Normal Departments, which, in her case, extended over the past eleven years, but, also, passed the City examination for teachers.

Miss Delia O'Malley passed the same examination in December but will not be graduated for two years.

In the City examination for June, after our Closing Exercises, the following were successful:

Miss VERONICA MURPHY, Class of '90.
" SUSIE O'REILLY, " " '90.
" LIZZIE BLISH, " " '91.
" HELEN STENSON, " " '91.
" MARY SANDERS, " " '92.
" MARY DOUGHERTY, who came for Review.

RULES FOR THE BOARDERS.

The pupils should remember that in an institution of this kind it would be impossible to preserve order without well-established rules: and when these rules are once understood, each young lady should consider it her duty, not only to observe them strictly, but also to aid her companions in doing the same, thereby rendering a most acceptable assistance to her teachers, whose greatest pleasure among them will be derived from their assiduity in this respect.

1st. The first and most important rule concerns their religious duties, which all will be required to attend punctually.

2d. Strict silence must be observed in all places, except during the time allowed for recreation in the room appointed for that purpose; but even during the hours set apart for recreation, it is never permitted in the halls or on the stairs.

3d. No pupil is allowed to leave the recreation hall, or any room in which all are assembled, without permission from the presiding Sister.

4th. No pupil is allowed to retain pocket money. For the purpose of safe keeping, it is deposited in the hands of the treasurer; also all jewelry except a breast-pin, pair of ear-rings and small chain.

5th. Borrowing or lending clothing, jewelry, etc., is not permitted.

6th. Each pupil will write to her parents or guardian at least once in two weeks.

7th. Private friendships are not allowed to such an extent as to exclude all others, or become remarkable, on the contrary, all should try to be sociable and kind, as members of one family circle, especially toward new pupils.

8th. During the recreation hours no work is permitted that will prevent the pupil from participating in the recreation, thus unbending the mind and preparing it for future study.

9th. No books brought to the academy by the pupils can be read without submitting them for inspection to their teacher. Letters are also subject to the inspection of the Directress.

10th. No visits allowed except at the appointed times, viz: Wednesday afternoon and Sunday. Pupils who wish to give no trouble should be particular to notify their friends of this arrangement.

11th. Personal neatness and a particular care of books, toilet articles, wearing apparel, etc., must be carefully attended to, as nothing like a slovenly appearance will be tolerated. A young lady who is careless in this respect must expect to lose all good marks as well as the respect of her teachers and companions.

12th. Music pupils are not allowed to leave their respective rooms during the hours given them for practice, neither should they speak in those rooms.

13th. No pupil is allowed to go to her room during school or recreation hours without special permission.

ST. XAVIER'S ACADEMY. Sept. 1897.

One of Chicago's foremost educational institutions is St. Xavier's Academy, located corner Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street. The building is a palatial five-story brick and stone structure, of graceful architecture and equipped with all modern conveniences.

It is owned and conducted by the Sisters of Mercy, a progressive sisterhood, whose lives are closely associated with the upbuilding of Chicago. The order was founded in Dublin in 1831 by Mother Macaulay, and its growth spreading all over Great Britain and the American continent, has been marvelously rapid. In 1846 the sisters began their career in Chicago in a small building, corner of Madison street and Wabash avenue. They were the first religious order to open up a school in this Western frontier, Chicago then being little more than an Indian trading post. Their work prospered, however, and they grew in strength, keeping pace with the giant strides of the city. In 1871 their accumulations of a quarter of a century were swept away in the great fire that reduced Chicago to ashes; but, undaunted by this crushing misfortune, they began anew, and their efforts have been doubly crowned with success. Their community here has grown to a membership of 225 sisters, and their schools and academies now number twelve, with an aggregate attendance of 5,500 pupils. Three of these institutions are academies, and nine are parochial schools. The academies are known as St. Xavier's St. Agatha's and St. Mary's.

St. Xavier's is the mother house of the order, and is the seat of government for the management of the affairs of the various institutions. It is a model, high-class literary academy, where the best instruction is offered amid surroundings that are of themselves an inspiration. The course of study is noted for its comprehensiveness and absolute thoroughness. Special stress is given to the modern and ancient languages, also to mathematics and the sciences. For the study of art and music in their various branches this academy offers exceptional advantages. An average enrollment of 250 young ladies are in attendance, one-third of whom are boarding pupils.

St. Agatha's Academy is located corner of Forty-ninth street and Evans avenue, and has both boarding and day departments. The work here, as far as it goes, is similar to that at St. Xavier's. It carries its pupils through the usual grammar grades, and the work is capably and thoroughly conducted throughout. The sisters have provided a very pleasant home for the fifty or more young ladies who enjoy the privileges of the boarding department.

The nine parochial schools which they conduct are scattered throughout the city. In four of these the full high-school course is given, the pupils passing the teachers' examination with wonderful success.

St. Mary's Academy is located at Libertyville, a pleasant suburb, thirty miles north of Chicago. It is the latest acquisition to the educational work of the sisters, opening its doors this fall to both day and boarding pupils. The property consists of a handsome convent and school building, surrounded by twenty acres of highly cultivated land. During the summer it is calculated as a retreat for the sisters, worn out by the year's work in the schools and hospitals of Chicago.

With this proud record behind them, the Sisters of Mercy stand before the public, not as strangers, but as part and parcel of the foundation of the educational system of Chicago.
